UNITED STATES ACADEMY OF KITCHEN EXHAUST SPECIALISTS

Fall Certification Program starts September 15, 2015

Rockville, MD, July 23, 2015

The United States Academy of Kitchen Exhaust Specialists (USAKES) announced today its upcoming fall certification training program to be held September 15 – September 21, 2015 at the Rockville, Maryland training center.

This program is designed for fire marshals, property managers, facilities managers and fire safety personnel to fully execute kitchen fire safety inspections and maximize their investment in their kitchen exhaust systems.

USAKES is a technical trade school for the commercial cleaning and fire protection industry. USAKES uses ISO: 9001:2008 quality certified cleaning and inspection training methods via classroom instruction and hands-on field training.

About USAKES: The United States Academy for Kitchen Exhaust Specialists (USAKES) was founded in 2012 by a progressive team of fire protection, law enforcement and forensic fire investigation experts. This Academy is a professional trade school dedicated to training and certifying technicians for a successful career in commercial kitchen exhaust service, fire suppression and safety compliance inspection. Visit our website www.usakes.com to learn more.
